Shibuya LALL
Japanese Language School

Shibuya LALL Japanese Language School is a new Japanese language school that will be opening in October 2017 in Hatagaya, Shibuya-ku, Tokyo. The school is operated by the LALL Group, a corporate group consisting of 16 companies and a medical corporation, the school will be committed to supporting foreign students' studies, life in Japan, academic careers, and work opportunities.

"Live and Let Live" is the philosophy of the LALL Group. This signifies our goal of facilitating a society in which all generations, from the young to seniors, can live in mutual harmony. Though our activities have thus far been mainly inside of Japan, we have taken our "Live and Let Live" vision to the global stage so that it transcends ethnicities and nationalities. The establishment of the Shibuya LALL Japanese Language School represents a tangible manifestation of that vision. By providing the young people of countries the world over with a venue for learning about the Japanese language and Japanese culture and thereby deepening mutual understanding, our desire is to develop individuals to take on the task of bringing together others around the world in the realms of business and culture.

President (LALL Group Representative)

原川 久司

HISASHI HIRAKAWA

I have over 20 years of experience as a Japanese instructor in Japanese language education at not only Japanese language schools but also at locations such as universities and training centers.

To the full extent possible, I hope to provide our students with opportunities for direct engagement with the various aspects of Japanese culture.

In addition, I will strive to make this a school that always attempts new initiatives for the purpose of providing our students with a fulfilling school life free of stress and enabling them to achieve the respective goals they set for themselves.

The Seven Ways We Support Our Students

The school has experienced faculty members and a clerical staff that will provide students with support that makes possible for them to study in Japan with peace of mind. And this support is further fortified by the LALL Group, which provides extensive assistance in non-academic areas as well, such as housing and health care.

Learning Support

We give each and every student an individual interview on a regular basis in order to assess individual learning progress and provide the appropriate follow-up.

Academic Career Support

As our goal is to ensure successful academic advancement to 100% of the student body, each student is provided with customized advice.

Working Opportunity Support

Students who seek career paths in Japan are provided with support in ways such as how to create a resume and how an applicant can achieve success in an interview.

Language Support

Our language support services are in English, Vietnamese, and Chinese. We have Vietnamese and Chinese nationals on staff who have experience in study abroad.

Health Care Support

Students are eligible to receive medical care at the hospital of the LALL Group. As students are enrolled in an insurance policy, there is no need to worry about costs for treatment.

Housing Support

Students are provided with referrals to student dormitories that are affiliated with the school as well as to housing in the private sector. The LALL Group includes a real estate company that will assist students in their search for housing.

Community Life Support

The school provides students with support in order to successfully navigate community life in Japan. This includes assistance with procedures at local government offices and banks as well as tips for success in interviewing for part-time work.

Shibuya LALL
Japanese Language School

Located a five-minute walk from Hatagaya Station on the Keio New Line, our school provides the finest learning environment for foreign students, as this quiet residential community within the big city is a place that affords the opportunity for focused study. As the school is located closest to Hatagaya Station, which offers access to Shinjuku Station via a four-minute train ride as well as access to Shibuya Station in about 15 minutes by either train or bus, this is a very convenient location for commuting, shopping, and working part-time.

FAQ

What happens if I become ill or get in an accident?

Upon admission to the school, all students enroll in the National Health Insurance program. This insurance covers 70% of treatment costs for illness and injury. The insurance premium is 20,000 yen per year. Students are also enrolled in insurance for international students. This provides compensation for the 30% of treatment costs that is not paid for by National Health Insurance. The insurance premium is 10,000 yen annually.

Are there student dormitories?

Those who request such will be provided with referrals to student dormitories that are affiliated with the school as well as housing in the private sector.
Those who want to search for housing on their own will be assisted by the real estate company of the LALL Group for a nominal fee. Many students opt to live in a dormitory until getting used to life in Japan. At that point, they move to location of their choice.

Is it possible for students to work part-time?

An Extra-status Activity Permit needs to be acquired by those wishing to work part-time. Once acquired, the permit will allow the student to work up to 28 hours per week (up to 8 hours a day during extended breaks). Hourly wages in Tokyo are around 900 yen. Those wishing to work will be eligible for referrals by the school to positions made available by businesses affiliated with the school.

What are the approximate living expenses per month?

Though it differs from individual to individual, living expenses range from 50,000 to 80,000 yen per month, not including rent and utilities. For example, food expenses can be 20,000-30,000 yen, mobile phone charges 5,000 yen, transportation costs 10,000 yen, and spending money 20,000-30,000 yen.

Will the school assist me in finding a job?

For students who opt to start their career rather than seek academic advancement, the school offers support in the finer points of successfully finding employment. This includes instruction on how to create a resume and tips for having a successful interview. In addition, career opportunities in the LALL Group are made available to students with distinguished grades and an exemplary learning attitude.

Is there interaction with Japanese people?

Exchange event with the Japanese employees of the LALL Group are planned. This will give students the chance to make practical use of their Japanese skills while interacting with individuals who cover a wide age range.
